RECREATIONAL VEHICLES

KOHLER generators, designed specifically for recreational vehicles, supply the kind of reliable power needed to make you feel right at home. Available from 4 kW to 20 kW with gasoline, liquid propane and diesel-powered units, these generators are so quiet you may not even know they're there. These units are also built lightweight and quiet so that they easily meet the RV industry's unique sound requirements. They're compact too, so customers can maximize their in-coach living space.

These units easily handle a variety of electrical equipment and work smoothly and reliably, protecting even valuable on-board computer equipment from voltage fluctuations. With single-side serviceability, KOHLER's RV generators are also easy to maintain. They're also backed by the industry's most extensive sales and service support network and a three-year limited warranty, the most complete in the business. In addition, KOHLER RV generators are UL listed.
